

THE LEONARD S. (TONY) MANDAMIN SCHOLARSHIP

Granted for academic excellence in the pursuit of post-secondary education related to the electricity sector by First Nations, Métis & Inuit students.

Hydro One is actively engaged in encouraging and investing in First Nations, Métis, and Inuit students interested in careers within the electricity sector. In 2011, we launched an annual educational scholarship that supports First Nations, Métis and Inuit students enrolled in industry-related programs at a recognized college or university.

In 2014, the scholarship was named in recognition of the Honourable Justice Leonard S. (Tony) Mandamin, one of the first Electrical Engineering graduates in Ontario of First Nations ancestry. The Honourable Justice Leonard S. (Tony) Mandamin, an Anishnawbe, was born in 1944 and is a member of the Wikwemikong Unceded Indian Reserve on Manitoulin Island. His legal career began in Alberta in 1983, following his call to the bar. In 2007, he was appointed as a Judge of the Federal Court and ex-officio member of the Federal Court of Appeal, and a Judge of the Court Marital Appeal Court of Canada.

Each year, up to 15 scholarships are available, which includes both a financial award in the amount of $5,000 and an opportunity to apply for a paid developmental work term at Hydro One. The deadline to apply for this scholarship is October 2nd of each year.
